RPL and Study Pathways

Will previous training and experience count?

Right Choice Training recognises Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) which considers the knowledge and skills you have already gained through your previous education and work history, attributing this to your enrolled qualification course. This may be through formal or informal training and can result in credits towards your qualification. Due to the Tax Practitioners Board's strict assessment requirements for tax agent courses, units within skill set are not available for recognition of prior learning (RPL).

Qualification pathways

This short course has national recognition. We recommend you progress into the FNS50222 Diploma of Accounting if you have not completed diploma level Accounting qualification. Tax agent registration will be the next step through the Tax Practitioner Board once you complete the Tax agent registration courses.
